- Deliver targeted marketing, service update notifications and promotional offers based on your communication preferences; And
- Verify your identity by comparing your personal information with third party databases.

We will not use your personal information for purposes other than the purposes we have disclosed to you, without your permission. From time to time we may ask your permission to allow us to share your personal information with third parties. You can choose not to share your personal information with third parties, or allow us to use your personal information for any purpose that is inconsistent with the purposes for which we originally collected it or later obtain your authorization. If you choose to limit our use of your personal information, certain features or the VYXIA Tokens Services may not be available to you.

Marketing

We will never sell or rent your personal information to third parties. Any communication we send to you will be related to your account or will be related to VYXIA Tokens services or products. If VYXIA Tokens sends you any communications that are not related specifically to your account, VYXIA Tokens will provide you with an “unsubscribe” mechanism where you can opt out of receiving other such messages in the future.

We may use your personal data to offer you products or services, including special offers, promotions, contests or rights that may be of interest to you or to which you may qualify. Such marketing messages may be sent to you in a variety of modes including but not limited to electronic mail, direct mail, short message services, telephone calls, facsimile and other mobile messaging services.

In connection with sending telemarketing messages to your telephone number via short message service, telephone call, facsimile and other mobile messaging services, please be assured that we will only do so if we have clear and express consent from you in writing or other forms of recording to do it so or if you haven't made it yet proper registration of that number with the Do Not Call Registry. If we have an ongoing relationship with you and you have not indicated to us that you do not wish to receive telemarketing messages sent to your telephone number, we may send telemarketing messages to that number related to the subject of our continuing relationship via short message service, facsimile and service other mobile messaging (other than voice or video calls).

You can at any time request that we stop contacting you for marketing purposes through a selected mode or all. To find out more about how you can change how we use your personal data for marketing purposes, please contact us. Nothing in this section will change or replace the terms and conditions that govern our relationship with you.

How personal information is shared with other VYXIA Tokens users

If you use your VYXIA Tokens Account to transfer Digital Currency in connection with the purchase or sale of goods or services, we or you may also provide the seller with a shipping address, name and/or email to help complete your transaction with the seller. Merchants may not use this information to market their services to you unless you have consented to this. If an attempt to transfer Digital Currency to your seller fails or is subsequently cancelled, we may also provide details of the failed transfer to your seller. To facilitate dispute resolution, we may provide the buyer with the seller's address so that the item can be returned to the seller.

In connection with Digital Currency transfers between you and third parties, including merchants, third parties may share information about you with us, such as your email address or mobile number which can be used to notify you that a transfer has been sent to or received from a third party. We may use this information in connection with such transfers to confirm that you are a VYXIA Tokens customer, that Digital Currency transfers are enabled, and/or to notify you that you have received Digital Currency. If you ask us to validate your status as a VYXIA Tokens customer with a third party, we will do so. You can also choose to send Digital Currency to or request Digital Currency from an email address. In such a case,

If you allow one or more third-party applications to access your VYXIA Tokens account, then the information you provide to VYXIA Tokens may be shared with those third parties. Unless you provide further authorization, these third parties are not allowed to use this information for any purpose other than to facilitate your transactions using the VYXIA Tokens service.

How we share personal information with other parties

We may share your personal information with the following parties:

- Third party identity verification services to prevent fraud. This allows VYXIA Tokens to confirm your identity by comparing the information you provide to us with other public records and third party databases. These service providers may create derivative data based on your personal information which can only be used in connection with providing identity verification and fraud prevention services;
- Service providers under contract who assist with some of our business operations such as billing, marketing and technology services. Our contract requires these service providers to only use your information in connection with the services they perform for us, and prohibits them from selling your information to others;
- Financial institutions we partner with;
- Companies or other entities that we plan to merge or acquire. If such combination occurs, we will require the new combined entity to follow this Privacy Policy with respect to your personal information. You will receive prior notice of any changes in the applicable policies;
- We are forced to do so by subpoena, court order or similar legal procedure; or
- We believe in good faith that disclosing personal information is necessary to prevent physical harm or financial loss, to report suspected illegal activity or to investigate violations of our User Agreement; And other third parties

Please rest assured that when we disclose your personal data to these parties, we ask them to ensure that any personal data disclosed to them remains confidential and secure. If you create a VYXIA Tokens account indirectly on a third-party website or through a third-party application, any information you enter on that website or application (and not directly on the VYXIA Tokens website) will be shared with the owner of the third-party website. third parties or your applications and information may be subject to their privacy policies.
